The faculty was a big difference for me here. I was used to only having one instructor all of my high school years, but here you have three or four different people, and all of the faculty are so nice. They're so accepting. They're welcoming to your ideas. They want to see you grow based off of that.

The staff here, they're amazing. The TRIO program helped me a lot because sometimes I need a tutor to push myself, and everybody here just wants you to grow.

The faculty here are top notch in science and math. All of us are PhD. prepared, so we have many years of experience. Some of us have been in industry. Most of us have gone through the graduate programs. Some have also done post docs. And so, we've got this wealth of knowledge, and then we bring that wealth of knowledge into the classroom.

In any major that you go to, the teachers want you to be you, and it's not so much of you learning about the major you pick. It's also about learning about who you are.
